SHAVING AN OLD SOLDER-A "Spiel Marke" Swindle-How it was Done. - Last night Detective McDevitt went to a house on Ridge street and arrested George W. Lansdale on the charge of being the principal in swindling the old colored man Shelton out of $45 by means of the "spiel marke dodge," as noticed in THE STAR of yesterday. The vectim, John Shelton, is an old colored man, residing in Charles county, Md., and having been wounded in the war while a soldier in the 9th colored troops, he is now in receipt of a pension. Having drawn his pension money in Beltimore he was on his way bome, intending to stop in Alexandria. The following is the story of his adventures after arriving here: "Feeling his beard was rough he went in the barber shop of Brook's to get a shave. While setting in the shop Lanesdale came in and said to Brooks, who was lathering the old man, "Can you let me have that now?" Brooks said "yes," and went to a drawer and got something out.

Lansdale remarked that the colored people should stand together, and if he could find a man that he had the same confidence in like he had in Brooks he could make some money. Shelton then asked what are you talking about? What do you mean?" Lansdale said, "Why, I works in the Treasury and gits money there." The old man said, "What have you got?" L. said, "A little gold," and asked got?" L. said. "A little gold," and asked Broeks, "What's the percentage on gold?" Broeks picked up a paper, and, looking over it, said, "Twenty per cent." Shelton said, "I allers keeps my business to myself. Where have you got it?" L. said, "Right here in my pocket." Shelton said, "Let's see it;" and Lansdale went out and said. "Come on," Brooks saying. " Mind, now; don't let any of the neighbors see you." Shelton then followed Lansdale down the cellar, and the latter handed out four pieces as large as double eagles, and the old man passed him over $45, being fold not to let any one see it. On returning to the shop, Brooks asked, "What have you got?" and the old man, answering "a little," was told not to show it, as they had ticklish times about the city, and he had better keep it a year. On going to Alexan-dria, he found that he had been swindled, and, returning to this city, made complaint to De-tective McDevitt, who arrested Brooks and Lansdale, as above stated.

A Dickson, who was in Baltimore, stating that he had secured quarters for the club, and that it would be heartily welcomed in Baltimore. A long debate took place on a motion to choose a committee of five on finance, which was finally adopted, and William Dickson, Jackson Yates, George Bauer, H. T. Burrows, and William H. Clagett were appointed. Mr. Pauer moved that the president and secrenames of persons desirons of going to Baltimore, and to keep the said books open until the opening of the convention; adopted.

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL EXHIBITION of the Rittenhouse Academy, Mr. O. C. Wight principal, took place yesterday afternoon, the room being crowded to excess by the parents and friends of the scholars. The exhibition showed great proficiency in the various studies taught at this school, and that the reputation it has heretofore acquired is fully sustained. A mong these receiving prizes for combined excellence in deportment and recitation were Robert E Braden, Addison Ralph Baldw a, Whitwell H. Wilson, W. W. Wishart, Brent in L. Baldwin, Thomas J. Johnston, George A. L. Emmert, Harry D. Jones, Joseph Shilling top, H. Randall Webb and G. H. Kennedy. Mich praise was bestowed on the young gentlemen for their rhetorical efforts by the audience, and bonquets without number were showered upon them by lades.

DISTRICT FINANCES.-Among the pay rolls approved by the District auditor yesterday were those of the fire department and collector's, treasurer's, governor's and auditor's offices. The pay rolls of the teachers and employes of the public schools for the months of July and August were also approved, and they will be said to-day or Monday next for those months which closes out their pay for the present scholastic year. The amount for this $21.502.14, to which is to be added $14.162.58, the amount for the above-mentioned offices, and about $10,000 for the police, which will be approved to-day. During the past week there have also been issued warrants for $100,000 in favor of the board of public works, and $5,000 for Hunt & Williams, on account of work on the Jefferson school-building.

A NEEDED REFORM .- Mr. Robert J. Nichol-A NEEDED REFORM.—Mr. Robert J. Nicholson, appointed by Governor Cooke as general inspector of the garbage gatherers and night scavengers, is an energetic man, and is going to work in good earnest to reorganize the force and will have the garbage gatherers visit each house daily. The carts will al. be painted the same color, and will, besides, have signs displayed showing what they are and to what district they belong, and the intention is to have the work thoroughly done. This is a good move, and will conduce greatly to the health and comfort of our citizens.

A GRAND RAT HUNT.—Owing to a number of dealers in the Center market claiming the right to occupy the stands in the old sheds until the 1st of July, the new market will not be opened until Tuesday next. On Monday pext the demolition of the old sheds will take place, and all who have rat-terriers and wish to see plenty of fun, had better be on hand early, as an army of rats will be dislodged. The heur set for this sport is 4 o'clock a.m. on the day named.

How to GET AWAY FROM IT.—The steamer Lady of the Lake, having been thoroughly overhauled and refitted, will make another of her delightful excursions down the Potemac to-morrow afternoon at balf-past two o'clock going as far as Laverpool point. This will afford a fine opportunity to our citizens to escape from the heat and dust of the city for a few hours and get the delightful breezes off the river.

IMPROVEMENTS IN GEORGETOWN.—Governor Cooke, A. R. Shepherd, S. P. Brown, and Col. James A. Magrader, of the board of public works, with the chief engineer, made an inspection of the streets of Georgetown to-day, with the view of determining the improvements to be made in that city.

Small Meeting of "Small Property THE SAME OLD CROWD OF ORSTRUCTIONISTS.

ORDWAY, LE BARNES, CRANE, MERRILL & co. Last night "a meeting of tax payers" was called to assemble at Union League Hall for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed to urge the House of Delegates to pass what is known as "the Gray bill," which proposed to extend the time of payment of taxes for special improvements over five years, with interest, for the benefit (?) of property owners (or speculators.) The meeting was not called to order until past 8 o'clock, when there were less than 30 persons present, most of them very small than 30 persons present, most of them very small property bolders indeed, carrying their real estate on their persons. Among the local politicians present were W. A. Freeman, A. Jones, J. P. Tustin, E. S. Atkinson, F. Prott, G. Hatton, M. West, and J. H. Crane.

The president not being present, Alfred Jones was called to take the chair, and before taking his seat made a few feeble remarks to the effect that he desired it to be distinctly understood that he desired it to be distinctly understood that he was not opposed to improvements, but was opposed to the reckless marner in which they were made and the mode of assessing and collecting the special taxes imposed therefor. (Something like this has been said before.—Rep.) This meeting had nothing whatever to do with politics, but it was proposed to unite all the tax payers of the District so that they may protect themselves.

BROKEN PROMISES. BROKEN PROMISES.

Mr. J. L. Thomas, the president of the for mer meeting, here entered the room, and Mr. Jones invited him to take the chair, which, after some persuasion, he did, and explained that the first meeting was held on the 17th instant, and a committee was appointed to urge on the House of Delegates the passage of the bill known as the Gray bill, the object of which was to give tax payers the opportunity to pay for improve-ments by installments. Some of the members of the flouse promised the committee they would vote for the bill in a modified form, giving three years to pay the special tax, with eight per cent. interest, but they failed to do it. He property holders would be obliged to sacrifice their property; in fact, it would be confiscated.

MR. TUSTIN SOUNDS THE NOTE OF ALARM.

Mr. TUSTIN, from the committee to prepare an address to the making the committee to prepare an address to the public, submitted the report; which was adopted. The address says :-- " We desire, on the behalf of those whom we represent, to be distinctly understood as in favor of public improvements in this District; entirely willing, and even desirous, that our streets and avenues should be beautified and improved at our cost, but we feel that we may venture, without presumption, to ask that our rights and wishes in a matter of such vital importance as meeting the indebted-ness which the payment of taxes imposes upon us may be respectfully considered. We think we would prove recreant to every duty we owe ourselves, our families, and, indeed, all classes of our people, if we did not lift our voices and sound the notes of alarm in the hearing of all

MR. FREEMAN ACKNOWLEDGES A "COWARDLY" DEFRAT. Mr. W. A. Freeman offered a resolution of thanks to the Council and members of the legislative assembly, especially those who voted for and advocated the passage of Council bill No. 1; calling attention to "the gentlemen who opposed the passage of said bill, and through whose influence it was so cowardly defeated, and trust that the defeat of said bill may be regarded as sufficient cause to secure their defeat, either in convention or at the ballot-box."

in the midst of whom we live."

Mr. Tustin suggested that the word "cow-ardly" be stricken out.

Mr. Freeman salt that, under the circum-stances, no language was too strong to use.

Ex-Councilman Gaines wished the resolution amended, as he did not want to thank men for doing what they were obliged to do. He had heard that it was not intended, in the first place, for the bill to pass.

The chairman said that it was only rumor, and they should not take notice of such reports. The discussion was continued for some time, and the resolution was finally adopted. MERRILL ON "PETER THE GREAT" AND THE

"CHINEE JUGGLER." Mr. J. H. Merrill offered a resolution declaring those who voted against the bill to be unworthy to represent the property-holders, and that they would do anything to further their own selfish ends, and that the voters in the dise persons reside should issue circulars to the property-holders to denounce them as unworthy to represent them in any respectable position in the District, more especially "Peter the Great" and the "Chinee Merrill went off in his old strainof a subsidized press, &c., and after repeated points of order, (one of them being that he had forgotten the subject of his resolution,) debate was shut off by laying the resolution on the table, 20 in the affirmative and 9 in the negative.

The chair called on the members of the com-mittee who waited on the members of the legislature to make their reports verbally.

Mr. A. Jones was the first to respond, and he stated that he had called on Messrs. Peter Campbell, O. S. B. Wall, S. G. Brown and J. square, to C. W. Havener, for $496.44; lot 27, square 121, to P. H. Welsh, for $855; lot 28, same square, P. H. Welsh, for $850; tot 13, same square, to C. W. Havener, tor $1,835; lot 29, square 131, to Wm. finkins, for $25; lot 30, same square, to P. H. Welsh, at 20% cents per foot; lot 42, same square, to A. P. Fardon, at 19 cents per foot; veto it if passed, because if he did not get the McKnight declared that, as nineteen districts were near of the bill, he feit himself compelled to support it. Boswell and Murray were sympathetic, but did not believe that the bill could near the their west to Well and the bill could near the their west to Well and the bill could near the their west to Well and the bill could near the their west to Well and the tree to well and the bill could near the tree to well and the tree to well and their west to well and the tree to well and the t could pass. He then went to Wall and told him what Boswell and Murray intended to do, and replied that those men would support anything to beat the board of public works, even to cut their throats, and he would not affiliate with any such people. ATEINSON WANTS AN ORGAN. Ex-commisioner Atkinson said the delegation left the hall of the House of Delegates with the impression that the bill would pass for three years and 8 per cent. They had been told that t was a fight against the board of public works. Everything to the interest of the people is charged to be against that board. After some further explanation, Atkinson then offered a resolution that Lie tax payers use their efforts to start an independent paper not subsidized, to be called the "Anti-Ring Organ," the object of which shall be to show up the outrageous amounts paid for so-catled improvements.

After Atkinson had made a general charge against the papers (except the Patriot) for ridiculing and faisifying their meetings, the resolution was adopted

LE BARNES SAYS THERE IS A CRISIS. Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms LeBarnes spoke his little piece, urging that it was their duty to organize, and at the next election elect a delegate to Congress who will not be a tool of the board of public works, and that they should also be prepared to protect themselves. There are twenty grounds on which they can resist the payment of onerous taxes. A crisis was impending in relation to these taxes, and some few of the moneyed men had formed a company at Hallet Kilbourn's office to purchase the property of the poor men at the tax sale—a ring arrangement. The rebel militia of the District was organized for the purpose of shooting you down if you attempt to assert your rights or strike for higher wages.

followed in a tirade of some length, in which he charged that in this District, where property paid $170 per $100, owing to the increased assessment the tax was really $2.75 per $100. He was in favor of improvements, but not in favor of a recklass expenditure of money.

At midnight the meeting adjourned. WHAT MADE THEM LAUGH .- In reference to the article in yesterday's STAR under the heading "laughing at the small-pox." Dr. Verdi, the health officer, desires to have it stated that he was not present when Mr. Michael Weich called at the office of the board of health, and therefore could not and did not laugh at the statements of that gentleman in reference to small-pox. Those who were in the office state that Mr. Welch wanted the small-pox cases re-moved from his house to the hospital, but the patients refused to go. He was informed that there was no law to force unwilling patients to go to the hospital, but that the board would disgo to the hospital, but that the board would dis-infect the premises, and take such other pre-cautions as might be deemed necessary. He thereupon expressed his opinion of the board in very uncomplimentary terms, and threatened to have them all dismissed. This, the clerks say, is what made them laugh, and not the small-pox, which they agree is no laughing matter.

ANOTHER SHOCKING COAL OIL ACCIDENT .-Yesterday, at Falls Church, Va., a bright-com-plexioned, sprightly colored girl, named Ella Thomas, about 15 or 16 years old, who was em-ployed in the family of Mr. Smith, residing there, took a can with a gallon of contribution there, took a can with a galion of coal oil in it to rekindle the fire that had been allowed, carelessly, to go down in the cooking stove. There were live coals enough in the stove to ignite the oil as it was being poured on the weed, and communicating with the body of the oil in the can, it exploded, and the girl was enveloped in fiames. Her cries brought help immediately, but too late, as she is shockingly burned, and if not already dead cannot live. She had been warned of the danger of using coal oil for kindling fires, but persisted, and her life will probably pay the forfeit.

"Not Down in the Bills." DISGRACIFUL SCENES AT THE NATIONAL THE ATER-PLAYING "THE LADY OF LYONS" UN They had "a high old time" at the National Theater last evening, the occasion being a dramatic performance, the proceeds of which were to be donated to the Little Sisters of the Poor, to aid in building a home for the destitute aged of both sexes. The play selected was Bulwer's "Lady of Lyons," with Mr. R. B. Lloyd (an amateur) as Claude Melnotte and Miss Kunkle as Pauline. Mr. Parkhurst, Mr. Shine, and others of the National stock company, were also in the cast. About one hundred and fifty persons assembled to witness the performance, DER DIFFICULTIES.

persons assembled to witness the perfermance,

THE "GALLERY GORS"

being out in force. The curtain did not rise until half-past nine o'clock on account of a row behind the scenes, the professionals insisting that they must receive a certain portion of their pay before they would consent to appear.
Meanwhile the musicians became disgusted and left. The difficulty was finally adjusted, and the curtain rose. Many in the audience had become indignant at the delay, and upon Mr.
Lloyd's appearance greeted him with groans, hisses, cat-calls, and various unseemly cries.
Mr. Lloyd was evidently disconcerted at his reception, as he well might be, and played very badly, most of his words being entirely inaudible even to those who occupied orchestra seats near the stage. The tumult grew louder as the play proceeded,

THE LOVE SCENES

between Claude and Pauline which culminated between Claude and Pauline which culminated in an embrace being the signal for shouts of laughter, cries of "good enough!" "O, go west, Lloyd!" "Take off them togs, Dick!" "Hug her again Claude!" &c., &c. Finally the boys in the gallery began throwing beets, onlons, cabbage heads, and other agricultural products on the stage, and one fellow in the dress circle threw a small kitten which cat-like lighted on all fours and scampered away, amid loud shouts of laughter. Once when a beet was thrown at Claude he put his hand threateningly on his right hip and hissed in a dramatic manner and loud enough to be heard all over the house, exloud enough to be heard all over the house, exelaimed "You - of a -, I'll pay you for this!" Soon after when AN ODORIFEROUS ONION came within an inch of his silk breeches he re-peated the same remark, and, finding that the disorder did not cease, advanced to the foot-lights and made an excited speech, in which he lights and made an excited speech, in which he said he had given his services in aid of a charitable object, and had supposed that, under the circumstances, although he was no actor, he would be treated with respect. The play dragged its slow length along until after midnight; but the disorder did not cease for a moment during the performance. In the closing scene Claude quite forgot his part, (which is not to be wondered at,) and, turning his back upon the audience, left the stage; everybedy, including the professionals on the stage, rearing with laughter at the ludicrous scene.

AFTER THE FARCE, A TRAGEDY ALMOST.
At the conclusion of the "performance," a difficulty took place behind the scenes, which at one time threatened serious consequences. The actors and actresses demanded their salaries, actors and actresses demanded their salaries, which Mr. Lloyd promised to pay them to day. They indignantly refused to wait, and he then offered them his check. This they also refused to accept, at the same time ridiculing his abilities as an actor, calling him a swindler and other pet names. One belligerent little fellow raised a cane to strike Mr. Lloyd, when the latter, who was greatly excited draw his pistol. ter, who was greatly excited, drew his pistol, and threatened to shoot. He was finally persuaded to put up his pistol and leave. The whole affair was very disgraceful, and while Mr. Lloyd was rather ambitious to assume so difficult a role as that of Claude Melnotte, the object for which he gave his services was a worthy one, and the respectable part of the au-dience, as well as Mr. L. and the actors, should have been protected by the police. These who didn't like the performance might have retired.

After he left the theater, Mr. Lloyd, with a lady, took a carriage at the front of the building, amid cries of "Don't take him!" "Get your money first!" &c., and the hackman, instead of driving him to his destination, took him to the central guardhouse. Here an altercation occurred, the result of which was that Mr. Lloyd and the lady had to walk home

Boardof Health. THE SMALL-POX SCOURGING THE WEOLE

COUNTRY-A COMMITTEE DIRECTED TO IN-VESTIGATE THE SUBJECT AND REPORT-THIRTY-FOUR CASES OF THE DISEASE FOR THE WEEK ENDING YESTERDAY-MEAT IN-THE WEEK ENDING YESTERDAY—MEAT INSPECTORS DROPPED, &C.

The board of health held a regular meeting last night. After the approval of averal bills reported by the finance committee, Dr. Bliss, from the committee on sanitary police, made a report, which was adopted, recommending that the names of Messrs. Fiffirling and Mander be dropped from the list of meat inspectors, they being dealers in meat in the Center market.
Dr. Cox, from the committee on epidemics, reported that information obtained during his recent visit to Baltimore, as well as from other recent visit to Baltimore, as well as from other sources, convinced him that the country is being sources, convinced him that the country is being scourged with the small-pox, and that the heated term increases rather than diminishes the disease. In Baltimore it is a general epidemic, and the rate of mortality is much larger than reported in the papers. It had been proposed there that the board of health should direct their agents to visit ever house in the city, and see that the inhabitants are thoroughly vaccinated. The epidemic is prevalent in this city, though to a less extent than in Baltimore city, though to a less extent than in Baltimore, and he urged that the matter receive immediate and careful attention On motion of Mr. Marbury the matter was referred to the committee on epidemics, with in-structions to report at the next meeting. Dr. Verdi, beaith officer, reported that during the week ending June 28, there had been reported thirty-four cases of small-pox, of which ten had been removed to the hospital, and five had resulted in death, and that the office of the health officer would be open for vaccination of the poor from 2 to 4 p. m. daily.

On motion of Mr. Langston, the health officer was directed to notify Mr. Pettibone to remove the manure heap from G-street wharf within The health officer reported that during the present month 224 unisances had been reported, and that 298 barrels of disinfectants had been distributed. Mr. Marbury moved that the distribution of disinfectants be temporarily suspended at the expiration of the present month, in order to ascertain how much money has been expended. While a believer in the use of disinfectants, he said the condition of the funds of the board would not recommend. would not warrant any further expenditure at present. Dr. Cox opposed the motion, saying that he regards the health of the District of vastly more importance than a few hundred dollars. On calling the roll, everybody voted "no" with the exception of Mr. Marbury.

Dr. Cox, from the committee appointed to confer with the Governor in relation to the Potters field, reported that the Governor had promised to remedy the abuses complained of.

The report of Superintendent Gatchell showed that during the week ending June 8th there were condemned by the inspectors 806 pounds of unwholesome meat, several barrels of vegeta-bles, and a quantity of fish, and that there were impounded 145 animals. On motion of Dr. Verdi, Mr. B. F. Peters was permanently employed as a clerk to the health The health officer was directed to investigate the case of Mr. Colclozer, who was not allowed to testify in the police court, on the ground that he had been engaged in attendance upon smallrox cases. Complaint having been made that an em-ploye of the health officer had rudely treated a gentleman who called to complain of a nuisance, the president was directed to investigate the

Ms. Editor: The item in yesterday's Star headed "Wanted her bady buried so she could go to a pic-nic" does the parties great injustice. The facts are that the mother, who is a servant in a very respectable white family, has not up to this time left the bed in the house of her employer. The lady employing her, ascertaining she had a sister, and not knowing what other course to pursue, had her sent for and entrusted the dead infant to her for interment, at the same time furnishing the certificate of death, furnished by me to the family. This aunt, in company with an acquaintance, carried the child and certificate to the station-house, where they were informed what was necessary, whereupon the aunt turned to her companion and asked her if she would accompany her to the office in the morning, when her companion informed her she was going on a pic-nic, and could not. Thus it will be noticed that it was only a companion of the aunt of the child and not the mother "who wanted her child buried so that she could go to a pic-nic." The mother is still under my professional care, and has not yet left her room or bedit to my positive knowledge. Respectfully. bed; to my positive knowledge. Respectfully &c.,

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS IN THE COUNTY -- MI B. D. Carpenter, general superintendent of public work in the county, has been directed by the board of public works to contract with some the board of public works to contract with some responsible person for the repair of Bunker Hill road, between Queen's Chapel road and the District line; to construct a sewer culvert at the intersection of 14th and Stoughton streets; and to have that portion of Piney Branch road between Central and Gleason's roads straightened. Jacob Devan has been ordered by the board to complete the grading on Cak Center and Brown streets, Mount Pleasant; and to gravel Park street, between 14th and 16th street roads. A plan for the extension of 19th street from Boundary street to Woodly lane has been prepared, and proposals will soon be advertised for

Mr. F. H. Cobb, draughtsman to the board of public works, has prepared a map for the grading of streets in Uniontown, which work is

THE BALTIMORE AND POTOMAC RAILBOAD. Messrs. Dubarry, superintendent; Little, Drill, Young, and others of the B. & P. R. R., were in the city to-day, engaged in making preparation for the running of trains on the road next week Mr. Smith, the general ticket agent at 6th street and Pennsylvania avenue, and Mr. George Gil-bert, the newly-appointed ticket agent at 6th and B streets, were also busy in their preparations. The time table for the present has been arranged for six trains each way per day.

Some of the B. & O. R. R.'s friends were in high glee on the streets to-day in consequence of a rumor that a treaty of peace had been concluded between the two roads, by which it is said the fare will be uniform on both roads—somewhere in the neighborhood of a dollar between this city and Baltimore; democratic convention round trips at $1.50 each.

WALL'S NEW OPERA HOUSE .- Mr. John WALL'S New OPERA House.—Mr. John Frazier, architect, formerly of Philadelphia, has completed the plans and drawings for Wall's Opera House, now in course of erection. The building will be three stories high, with a mansard roof, the windows to be or galvanized iron. On the 9th street front a large portico, supported by doric columns and capitals, and surmounted by a doric pedament leading into mounted by a doric pedament leading into a wide staircase to the second story, will be erected. The second and third stories will not be completed this year, it being the object of the proprietors, Messrs. Wall & Berry, only to furnish and complete the lowerstory, which will contain five large stores. In the event of the contain five large stores. In the event of the upper part being leased for theatrical purposes, it will be fixed up to suit the plans of the lessee. The stores will be completed in four months.

SUIT AGAINST THE DISTRICT GOVERNMENT To-day, Mr. W. D. Davidge filed for Eliza Lay-cock and Fayette Sherlock a bill for injunction against the District of Columbia, W. H. Slater, W. H. Tenley, O. Gleason, and S. W. Cissell, to restrain the collection of a special tax for increase and provements in front of certain lots in square, 334. The bills set forth that the defendant, Tenley & Co., were enjoined in the suit institu-ted on the 25th of March, 1871, from doing work under a contract then made, and charge that the date of the contract was fraudulently

OFF FOR ALBANY. - Last night Deputy Warden Russ and Mr. G. W. Dutten, of the county jail, left with the following prisoners sentenced at the June term of the criminal court to imprisonment in the Albany peniten-tiary:—Robert Goodman, burglary, 8 years; Margaret Clagett, larceny, (2d offence.) 1 year; Washington Dunley and Edward Smith, grand larceny, 2 years.

THE COURTS. EQUITT COURT, Judge Humphreys.—Coleman vs. Stafford; rule to show cause why judgment should not issue. Nichols vs. Nichols; order to file bill without deposit. Riley vs. Church; temporary injunction issued. Riley vs. Kirk et al.;

Police Court, Judge Snell.—To day, Thos. Handy, charged with assault and battery on Fanny Magruder; $5 and costs. Rob't Sherlock, profane and indecent language; $5, or 30 days. Netty Bowen, 'runk and disorderly; $5. Sally Stevens and May faylor, drunk and disorderly; $5 each. John b. Tait, charged with stealing 2 wheelbarrows, from different persons. Testimony showed that Tait, who is a young man, has for some time past teen in the habit of going about town and borrowing wheelbarrows, under pretence that he had some hurried job to do, which required the use of a wheelbarrow for do, which required the use of a wheelbarrow for a few minutes, promising immediate return to the owner, when he would take them away and the owner, when he would take them away and dispose of them to a junk shop. The cases were all similar; most of the wheelbarrows were at the junk shop where they had been sold, and the owners recognized them. Some of the owners were not present, and the court reserved decision-until all the parties had been summoned. John W. Padgett, charged with assault and battery on Solomon Robinson; $3 and costs. Charles Taylor, assault and battery on Elizabeth Taylor, $3 and costs. Mary Nichols, larceny of a shawl and bed-quilt from Edward Hughes; $15 and costs. Mary Bruce and Sally Bruce, on Jane R. Johnson, all colored. Jane came limping into court, apparently in the greatest agony, with her face plastered up, and told the judge her story; how Mary and her daughter came to her house over the Eastern branch, and knocked her down and afterwards jumped on her, nearly stamping her life out. Mary had no witnesses, but was permitted to make her statement. She stated that Jane had make her statement. She stated that Jane had for a long time been trying to seduce her hus-band away from her, and catching them to-gether she told Mary that as she could not whip him that she would take satisfaction out of her, and accordingly pitched into her. She was lawfully married to him, and thought she had a right to whip her. The judge said he would make all allowances for her ignorance of the law, and fined her $20. Nannie Carroli, colored, charged with stealing sundry articles of clothing from Mrs. Brown, all valued at $50 (another case of misplaced confidence in a servant maid); sent to the grand jury.

Turner, and Frank W. Daw.

At the close of the distribution the Governor

At the close of the distribution the Governor made a few appropriate remarks to the pupils, congratulating them on their proficiency and marked improvement during the year. He alluded to the projected new school building, and hoped the day was not distant when the youth of Georgetown would possess educational advantages equal to those of any city in the country. He concluded by saying that he mould country. He concluded by saying that he would do all in his power to build up the public schools of Georgetown. His remarks were received with applause. The exercises were interspersed with music by the band and singing by the pupils, and closed with the singing of the doxology.

The spectacle presented inside the church was a very beautiful one. The main aisles on the lower floor were mostly occupied by the chil-dren, neatly dressed, and the outer sisles and galleries were filled with the parents and friends of the pupils and friends of education. The of the pupils and friends of education. The female pupils, robed in white, some schools with sashes and trimmings of pink, and others of green, made a fine display. This church, which will soon be abandoned by the congregation for a new church edifice, is well fitted for such occasions as that of yesterday.

MR. JAMES S. WELCH, of the firm of Herr & Welch, of this city, who is at present in Ohio, writes that the wheat crop in the Miami valley, through which he has passed, is very poor.

ACTING CORONER HARTISAN yesterday viewed the body of Henry Seale, recently drowned off Simms' wharf, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

THE WHEAT AND FLOUR MARKET.—There THE WHEAT AND FLOUR MARKET.—There has been no wheat on the market during this week. It is expected that the next receipts, which are looked for about the 15th of July, will be of the new crop. The recent decline in prices may deter many farmers and other holders from putting any large quantity on the market at present. The flour market has been duil during the week. Some brands of extras have declined 25 cents. Buyers are holding off, most of them having a stock on hand which they are anxious to dispose of before making new purchases. A number of our city mills have temporarily closed for repairs and imhave temporarily closed for repairs and improvements.

ALEXANDRIA.

* DIED ON THE ROAD.—A gentleman named Ross, from Washington, who passed through this city on Wednesday evening last with his little daughter, on a short trip up the Washington and Ohie railroad, returned yesterday evening with his darling in a coffin. She had been taken suddenly sick and died during the presions pight.

MRS. DR. WALKER, who passed through this city yesterday morning via the W. & O. R. R., returned last evening via the O. A. & M. R. R. She again walked from the depot to the steam-boat wharf followed by a crowd of noisy urchins. Gazette, last evening.

After the corns are extracted wear shoes close fitting about the instep and bread and cany at the toes. If the undue thickening of the cuticle upon the parts affected should continue, have it removed occasionally before it becomes painful: thus, the pressure of the shoes and corns upon the diseased parts being shore and corns upen the diseased parts being avoided, the tissues will gradually assume their normal condition and the parts become amouth and natural. The great majority of persons in intelligent communities think it safest to have their feet cared for occasionally by some one skilled in the treatment of complaints peculiar to those parts of the person; and considering the great amount of duty the feet are obliged to perform, especially as said duty is accompanied by corresponding danger in tampering with their aliments, it is but reasonable to suppose that the feet would need occasional stention, and if in a disordered condition, more frequent and skilled attention than any other parts of the human frame.
